So, you didn’t finish that special project in time for last year’s show... that’s o.k., you weren’t alone. Add those finishing touches, put on that final coat of wax, and enter it in the 9th Annual Northern Woods furniture exhibit this fall. Exciting new changes will make this the best show ever!

First of all, the location of this year’s show is at Ridgedale mall. Think of it... thousands of people recognizing and appreciating the quality of your work. Ridgedale offers great exposure for the all Guild members.

Second, we have restructured the awards to include 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place honors in each category. This will give everyone a greater chance of going home with a ribbon! And, as always first place winners will also receive cash prizes.

To make this even better, we have a sponsor! Davlins, a retailer of fine hand crafted wooden items and located in the Dales, has agreed to help with the promotion of this year’s show. Davlins, along with Ridgedale, allows a greater opportunity for advertising and media coverage!

The show is open to all Guild members. We strongly encourage all who have thought about entering in the past but haven’t, to do so this year. Look for registration information in the next Guild newsletter.

Hope to see you there!
Call Henry Linder (612) 489-7965 for information.
The combined talents of the Minnesota Woodworkers Guild membership is tremendous, as is the variety of equipment that they own. For this reason we are organizing a professional services program, whose main purpose is to make the special talents of our members and the capabilities of their equipment known and available to both our membership and to the general public. This service can function in a number of ways: as consultation without charge, as a service offered for a trade or barter, for an hourly rate, or as a negotiated fee with a negotiated price agreed to by both parties. In short, it will offer those of you who wish to offer your services a free way to contact the rest of our membership as well as the general public through the exposure of the Guild. Here is how the program will work:

1) Members will register with the program coordinator or by calling one of the Guild officers.
2) The registry will be published and distributed to the membership of the Guild as well as distributed at local businesses, trade shows, Northern Woods, etc.
3) There is no cost for registration.
4) Charges for services are determined by the person offering the service.
5) The register will be updated quarterly and initially we will publish it annually.
6) The specialties of the business will be listed, equipment services will be listed through use of a code system.
7) The Minnesota Woodworkers Guild assumes no responsibility for problems arising between parties using this service.
8) This program does not offer use of equipment by the customer.
9) The Guild offers no guarantee of the quality of services offered.

The overall purpose of this service registry is to provide a "yellow pages" of woodworking services for use by the Guild's membership as well as being available to be offered to the general public. It will be published in the next newsletter and is based on information gathered in a survey of our membership conducted in last June's newsletter.

Like all of the Guild's projects the success of this endeavor depends on how many people participate and how many services are offered. If you didn't respond to the survey and would like to be included in this publication or would simply like more information, you can contact Dennis Hruby at 522-8803 or Roger Geis at 784-4612.

If you are interested in contributing or advertising in "Northern Woods", call Bruce Kieffer, (612) 642-9615.

Deadline for submission of materials is six weeks prior to the 1st of each Quarter. Next Issue deadline is May 20th.

As we move into Spring the Woodworkers Guild has some exciting changes taking place. We have built a strong Board of Directors and are keeping busy working to bring about new and beneficial events for our membership.

As those of you who attended the March meeting know we are now giving away a door prize at the monthly meetings. To begin with it will probably be a gift certificate to a local retailer but for future meetings I would appreciate any suggestions you may have for variety in the prizes.

I want to thank all of you who attended the Winter party at Jax Cafe and helped to make it a success this year. Lets make it even bigger next year!

In the upcoming meetings section of this newsletter you will see that we are having a Tool Swap at the June meeting this year so any of you who have some old or seldom used tools that you would like to sell let's see you there! If you are looking for that special tool this will be a good place to check out, maybe someone has just what you are looking for. Let's all show up and make it a success!

At the beginning of February we had a booth at the Woodworking World show at the Minneapolis Convention Center and we had a good response from the attendants. As a result our membership has surpassed the 200 mark! This will help us continue to build our organization by bringing new active members into the Guild. In order to offer this group of 200 plus woodworkers another benefit of membership we are finally going to publish our member services clearing house list. If you would like to have your business or services listed, see the article later in this newsletter!

We have assembled a committee to begin the organization of this Fall's Northern Woods show and this year it promises to be better than ever. I want to thank all of you who answered my survey and provided us with lots of great information on how you feel about the past shows and what you want to see in the future. This year we will move the show from the Bandana Square location to the much more vital Ridgedale Mall and it will run a couple of weeks later, October 24 to 27. We are working with Davlins as our sponsor and with the Ridgedale management to arrange to have our show in the main atrium area at the center of the mall. This area should provide fantastic shopping traffic and is located in an area of the city that is growing rapidly.

Any of you members who are in business selling fine woodwork should get ready to bring in your best work to be in this year's show! This is an opportunity to show what you have to offer to literally thousands of people at a minimal cost. Since this is a large area we will need at least 40 exhibitors to fill the space and I want to express the need for ALL of our members both professional and amateur to plan to exhibit their best work at this show. We need your help to make this work and now is the time to begin a project for this year's show if you haven't already done so.

As the year progresses we will need several people to volunteer their time to help with the coordination of this show. There are lots of jobs both large and small that need your help. If you can volunteer please call Dennis Hruby at 522-8803 to find out how you can help.

I see a year full of new things for the Guild, many of which I have not mentioned here. With your participation we can make it happen and you can receive the maximum benefit from your membership. Let's keep things going and have a great year!

What is the Minnesota Woodworkers Guild?

We are a group of professional and amateur woodworkers, bound together by three goals: to educate ourselves and the public about woodworking, to meet new friends and talk about woodworking, and to advocate high standards in our craft.

Our monthly meetings teach us about varied subjects. Occasionally we sponsor master classes by nationally known experts, and during the year we have guild social events. Meetings are a chance to socialize, pick up tips from other members, or maybe just discuss projects you’re working on currently. Each fall we sponsor an exhibition called “Northern Woods” that displays the best woodworking that our area has to offer. Members receive a quarterly newsletter with articles of particular interest to Minnesota woodworkers, plus news of meetings and events.

We welcome membership by all woodworkers, regardless of what they build, their level of skill, style of work, or their profession. Our goal is to encourage the highest standards in woodworking, while allowing each of our members to grow at their own pace, from whatever level of skill and accomplishment they begin with. Simply put, we want each of our members to become the best woodworker they are capable of, and to enjoy telling their Guild friends about it along the way.

You are welcome to attend a meeting if you want to get to know us, or you can call John Hoppe (544-8431) or Dennis Hruby (522-8803) for more information about the Guild. To become a member, fill out the attached form and mail it to us with your $25.00 check, or just bring it to a meeting.

During the summer most of us are busy with outdoor activities and are usually not concentrating on woodworking, but this is the time we all should be thinking about what we have prepared, or are preparing for the Northern Woods show this fall. This will be an important year for the show as well as the Guild; We will see how many of our members are willing to give forth their time and effort to help make this show a success.

Our goal this year is to have over fifty pieces exhibited at Ridgedale, and I feel that this is a realistic goal. All you professionals looking for prospective business should see this as a great opportunity to meet new clients. Amateur members should see this as an opportunity to exhibit your pieces in a busy, vital, and fun atmosphere. To improve this year’s show the Board has reviewed past shows and we have made many very significant changes that will make this show a much more rewarding experience for all exhibitors. Please look over the Northern Woods documents included in this newsletter and you will see some of these changes. Remember, the deadline for entry is September 1st, so don’t wait until the last minute to get your pieces ready!

As in past years, we will be participating in the Woodworking show at the fairgrounds this fall, and we will need some volunteers to staff the booth. Keep this in mind. I will let you know more about it as the show dates firm up. Remember if you volunteer to work the show, you will get a free pass to get in, that’s a six dollar value!

This November we will be having a mail in election that will be posted in the 4th quarter newsletter. If you are interested in running for an office or are interested in serving on the Board of Directors, let a current board officer know at one of our upcoming meetings. We’ll need to post names on the ballot.

I see a year full of new things for the Guild, many of which I have not mentioned here. With your participation we can make it happen and you can receive the maximum benefit from your membership. Let’s keep things going and have a great year!

This directory is designed to provide Guild members a way to offer services to each other.

Two types of lists are provided:

The professional directory lists the member name, company name and address, telephone number and the principle product or service. This list serves Guild members and the general public.

The Guild member directory provides the name of the member and the service offered (equipment or specialty). Refer to the membership directory for the telephone number of the person offering the service. This method limits the use of the service to Guild members.

HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS:

Charges for services are set by the person offering the service (or product).

* The two directories are to be used as described above.
* The Guild assumes no responsibility for problems arising between parties using this service.
* The Guild offers no guarantee of the quality of the services offered.
* This program does not offer use of equipment by the customer.

This directory will be updated and/or revised after an initial trial period. Call or write Dennis Hruby or Roger Geis to offer a critique, or to be added to the list of members offering services.

Dear Fellow Woodworker:

The Minnesota Woodworkers Guild, Davlins, and Ridgedale Mall will sponsor the Ninth Annual Northern Woods Exhibit on October 24th through the 27th, 1991. This year the show will be held at Ridgedale Mall in Minnetonka. Entries will be limited to objects made primarily of wood. The objective of the show is displaying examples of our work to the public. Guild members and prospective members are encouraged to exhibit their best pieces, and make special effort to develop a new entry for this year.

This year the show fee will be $25.00. We will depend on your judgement to ensure a high level of quality for the show.

The Board of Directors has decided to award two major cash prizes this year: The Best in Show and Peer award will receive $200.00 each. The two minor categories: Design award and Craftsmanship award will receive $75.00 each. All entrants are considered for these awards as well as their individual category awards. The category awards are as follows: Seating, Beds and Tables, Casework, Art Furniture, Minor Piece (all pieces that do not fit the previous categories) and First Time Exhibitor. Ribbons and certificates will be awarded to all winners.

The deadline for submission of slides is September 1, 1991. Photographs, sketches or completed pieces may be submitted instead of slides, but only with the permission of a Board member. A late fee of $25.00 will be imposed for any entries received after Sept. 1.

The Board has made several changes to the Rules for Entry. This year you will be required to choose a category to enter your piece. It will be considered for award only within your chosen category. This will greatly simplify judging and should make the show run much smoother than previous years. As in the past, exhibitors will be required to provide pedestals for all their pieces. This gives the show a more professional appearance. The floor at Ridgedale Mall may be uneven, therefor, all pedestals must have floor levelers. No shims, or wedges will be allowed. If you have any questions please call me, Tim Johnson at (612) 378-2605.

The secret to success and longevity of our Northern Woods Exhibit is the participation by a large number of members. This year is particularly important. We’re being sponsored by Davlins, part of our agreement is to have at least 50 pieces in our show. This will require a major effort from all members to create new pieces, and bring back pieces from previous years. We’re certain that most of you have show quality pieces. If you have doubts, let the Board be the judge. Finally, you don’t need to show a new piece. A piece that has been judged in a previous show may be exhibited, it’s just not eligible for prizes or awards.

I will be coordinating the entries, and hope to receive yours soon.

Sincerely,

Tim Johnson
Show Entry Coordinator
NORTHERN WOODS EXHIBIT — RULES FOR ENTRY

1) Entries are limited to objects made primarily of wood.

2) Each entrant may submit any number of pieces for exhibition, however only three pieces are eligible for judging.

3) Previously exhibited pieces are not eligible for prizes but will receive critiques from the judges.

4) Items required at the time of entry:

   A) Color Slides: One or more slides of each piece or related grouping which may include detailed views. Slides should be identified with your name and the piece name. Slides will become the property of the Guild, they may be used to promote Guild functions and will become a permanent record in the Guild archives. Photographs, sketches or completed pieces may be submitted instead of slides, but only with the permission of a Board member.

   B) Piece Description: A detailed typed description of each piece which includes dimensions depth x length x height, type of wood and other materials, construction methods (both visible and concealed) and finish. Include a price if you wish to sell the object, or state not for sale. Be complete; This will be used in judging.

   C) Biographical Data: This should not exceed 50 word about yourself. We will use your biography on record from a previous show unless you send an update.

   D) Entry Fee: A $25.00 entry fee must be remitted with your entry form by September 1, 1991. LATE SUBMISSIONS WILL BE CHARGED AN ADDITIONAL $25.00 LATE FEE. Fees are completely refundable if your piece is not accepted at the preview.

5) The Board of Directors reserves the right to reject a piece they deem unacceptable for any reason.

6) The Minnesota Woodworkers Guild and Ridgedale Mall are not liable for damages or security of any pieces while on display. Each exhibitor should provide their own insurance.

7) All exhibitors must cooperate with the producers of the show to make their exhibits attractive. Pedestals are required for all exhibited pieces. Pedestals must be plain with either a painted or laminated white or black colored surface. Medium density fiber board is an excellent and inexpensive material for this purpose. Levelers with minimum 1" travel are required at the corners of each pedestal to compensate for uneven floors. Advertising is limited to portfolios, business cards, and Guild sponsored publications.

8) There is a one leaf limit for tables.

9) All pieces being displayed must be in place by the end of the set up time stated in the acceptance notification. No late pieces will be accepted.

10) Sale of displayed items is encouraged, although all pieces must remain on display for the duration of the show.

11) The preview decision of the Board of Directors and the competitive decision of the Judges is final.

NINTH ANNUAL

Northern Woods
AN EXHIBITION OF WOODWORKING
OCTOBER 24TH THRU 27TH 1991

RIDGEDALE MALL, MINNETONKA, MINNESOTA

Sponsored by:
the Minnesota Woodworkers Guild, Davlins, & Ridgedale Mall
The overall purpose of this service registry is to provide a "yellow pages" of woodworking services for use by the Guild's membership as well as being capable of being offered to the general public. It will be published in the next newsletter and is based on information gathered in a survey of our membership conducted in last June's newsletter.

Like all of the Guild's projects the success of this endeavor depends on how many people participate and how many services are offered. If you didn't respond to the survey and would like to be included in this publication or would simply like more information, you can contact Dennis Hruby at 522-8803 or Roger Geis at 784-4612.

As you receive this newsletter we are in the midst of the busiest time of the year for the Guild. We will have just finished the Woodworking Show at the Fairgrounds and are ready to put together the Northern Woods show, this time at Ridgedale Mall. This change in venue should bring us some great new exposure. We need to thank Henry Linder of the Guild and Dave Looney of Davlin's for making this possible and I hope to see you there!

This year we have had a solid turnout at our meetings and I think we are becoming a stronger organization. We still need your help and support to keep this momentum up, so keep coming to the meetings! The Board has been working hard to come up with interesting ideas for meetings and to schedule these meetings so that the majority of our members may attend, which is why we have been scheduling Saturday meetings. So far, however, these meetings have been poorly attended. What are your thoughts on this? We need some help from the membership on this subject, and any ideas that you have for interesting meetings are appreciated, just mention them to a Board member at any meeting.

As Fall approaches it is again time to hold the elections for the Officers and Board seats. As I write this we do not have any positions being contested and so I propose that we hold elections as in the past at the November meeting. The one position that is opening is the President of the Guild, as I am stepping down at the end of my present term. I have been the President now for two years and the Vice President for a year before that and I feel it is time to infuse some new blood into the Guild. A new President will be elected from the Board of Directors at the November meeting. This will leave one seat open on the Board. So if you are interested in having an effect on what the Guild is we welcome you to volunteer.

I feel that I have achieved my primary purpose as president: To organize, document, and direct the operation of the Guild and prepare it to operate smoothly in the future. With your continued support the Minnesota Woodworkers Guild will continue to flourish and grow. May you have the best of success in all your future endeavors.

John Hoppe, President

In order to survive and be of interest this publication needs people to submit letters, want ads, tips & techniques, questions & answers, and write articles. Don't hesitate to take this opportunity to share your ideas and knowledge with the rest of your fellow Guild members. If each member submitted only one item per year we'd have about a 50 page newsletter each quarter, now wouldn't that be great. Call me @ 642-9615 if you want to discuss your ideas.

Northern Woods Exhibit 1990

by Tim Johnson

Through their work, artists make statements, ask questions, and send messages. Works of art transmit these messages to the audience and invite the audience to respond. Artists give their life to their work, and in doing so, to their work they give life. Wait! Don't stop reading! I don't intend to imply that what was on display at this year's Northern Woods exhibit was art, or that we who exhibited are artists. However, as a furniture builder, one of my primary goals (along with just getting the damn thing done) is for my work to speak the language of woodworking in such a way that the audience will be drawn to it, encouraged to touch it, and hopefully engage in a dialogue with my work.

Actually, woodworkers are lucky, most of their audience understands the component parts of the woodworking language: color, grain pattern, and texture on one level, form and function on another, and craftsmanship on yet another. The woodworker is free to arrange these components in terms of relative emphasis. Any one can be given primary importance, with secondary importance given to any of the others. This allows for the language to have a huge number of dialects, if you will.

I've exhibited at Northern Woods shows for 4 of the past five years, and I think that it's a great place to watch people interact with the pieces on display. The language at this year's show was spoken in several dialects. Emphasis on grain pattern and color were preeminent in H. B. Roholt's pine burl tables. Only one step removed from the tree itself, these pieces were a testament to the natural beauty of the medium in which we work. Henry Linder's walnut table also relied primarily on nature's handiwork. It had a top made from a wondrous, naturally shaped slab of walnut, resawn and bookmatched, and set on a sculpted trunk-like base. A piece of smoked glass that was fit into the top added a reflective, water-like element, as if these pieces of walnut were still lying on the forest floor, dappled by a spring rain.

Wood turners delight in discovering and bringing out a hidden shape, or unrefined beauty, in a turning blank. I found the form and grain pattern of John Berglund's "Winged Vessel" particularly to my liking.

Ideals of order, simplicity, and piety permeated Shaker style. Not surprisingly, these ideals were incorporated into their furniture designs. Efficient, simple forms were determined by necessary function and executed with a perspective towards craftsmanship. Those of us who chose to work inside this tradition have a tall order indeed.

My challenge was to build a large table without the usual heaviness associated with the size. Having built 30 harvest tables, I know what I'm talking about. Shaker taper legs styles seemed to be a starting point. I paid particular attention to the degree of the taper in relation to the aprons and top, emphasizing the overall form. The inlay work on the top creates interplay with the structural components of the base.

Jon Strumbas' butternut dresser was constructed with hundreds of (praise the lord) dovetails. But for me the top was the most striking element. Butternut is one of my favorite woods and never have I seen it with such a smooth surface. Jon emphasized Shaker form with butternut grain and a baby-bottom smooth texture. A beautiful combination.

Jacqueline Rae Baker's cherry writing desk was a real crowd pleaser. People were all over it. Again, I think the simplicity of Shaker style is very attractive, but there's something else. I think people can relate to the idea of a writing desk. They can envision themselves using it - writing letters, poetry - being creative, communicating with others. There's also something about a folding, lockable front and small drawers (especially if they have locks) that people find intriguing. A safe place for secrets, perhaps. A writing desk is a special piece of furniture.

Speaking of small drawers, I couldn't keep my hands off of Jon Hoppe's fly tying workstation. I loved opening the doors and arranging the drawers, and I admired the wooden spring clasps. And it was butternut... I just might have to take up tying flies.

There's always somebody to rock the boat. Just as Shaker style is easily recognizable by its reassuring and serene form, today's art furniture movement travels in the opposite direction. Duff Thury's "Euclid's Wardrobe" did just that. Painted shades of bright blue and gray (a total de-emphasis on grain pattern) it stood defiantly as an in-your-face challenge of our acceptance of the laws of perspective by appearing to be a 2-dimensional piece in a 3-dimensional world. People couldn't resist opening the vanishing point doors, and when they did, another slap - the angled shelves were as out of sync as the rest of the piece (or in sync with itself). Most people did a double take. I loved it.

A kinder, gentler piece, Ira Keer and Bruce Kieffer's "T Squares Armoire" used a non threatening, comforting approach. Symbols of the tools an architects were ingeniously incorporated into this gentle giant, a piece that at first I could not relate to. Ironically, Duff Thury opened the way for me by suggesting possible motifs and then Ira Keer took time to teach me it's dialect.

A word about my poster bed. My intent was to remove a traditional form, the poster bed, from it's usual context, in this case antique distressed or refinished dark wood, and combine it with a contemporary element, here bleached maple. The theory is that by doing this, the design element is freed from the constraints placed upon it by being categorized as "antique". And by being large and high off the ground maybe, just maybe, it conjures up thoughts of being a little kid again and climbing up into Mom and Dad's big bed for a nice cozy nights sleep.

My point is that if we as woodworkers can produce work that enhances our audience's realm of experience, we will have succeeded. I enjoyed this year's show. I hope that next year you will take time to participate. I'll be waiting with open ears.
As we begin the new year I look back on the changes that we have undergone in 1990. We have seen a new Board of Directors emerge and fresh ideas come with them. We have documented what the Minnesota Woodworkers Guild is by creating a charter. We have worked to re-evaluate the Guild's activities to encourage more participation. We are presently working to evaluate the Northern Woods show and formulate ideas to make it better next year. Most important of all we are continuing to work toward the goal of making the Guild better able to serve its membership.

As those of you who read my letters know, November was scheduled to be the election and ballots were scheduled to be mailed out. It seems that there were no candidates for any of the guild offices and so it was decided to simply acknowledge the existing officers and board at the November meeting.

This year we are going to take a different approach to our Winter Party, since the past few years we have been plagued by noisy bands after our dinners. This year we are having the party at Jax Cafe in northeast Minneapolis in a private room away from the noisy bar environment. We are taking a bit of a risk at booking this location considering the declining turnout at the past few parties and I am counting on you to help us out by planning on attending. This year should be a great chance to socialize and meet some of your fellow Guild members. Check this issue for an article explaining this in more detail.

In the past few newsletters I have requested volunteers to help put together and distribute a list of our professional members and their services as a marketing effort for their benefit. As of this time I have not had any volunteers step forward to assist with this. If there are no interested people I will have to assume that this is not an idea that the Guild should pursue and I will discontinue the effort.

This newsletter is the premier of a new service to our members. Willis Bowman has volunteered to survey local businesses to find out who will give us discounts when we show our Guild membership cards. I think that we will all find this information to be very useful and I want to thank Willis for his efforts. This will be an ongoing effort and any information you can provide on other discount sources would be greatly appreciated.

On October 4 through 7 we had the Northern Woods show at Bandana Square and those of you who attended and exhibited are aware that this year's show was anything but a success. We had a total of twelve exhibitors, ten of whom were Guild members. This amounts to just over 5% of our membership actually participating in this event. We have to do better than that to continue this event. In light of the state of Northern Woods, I have sent a survey out with this newsletter and I would like you to fill it out and return it to me. This will assist in the restructuring of this event. Next year I plan to offer a new location, a new prize structure, and a more rewarding experience for all who participate. To do this I need your help. Let me know what you think about this event.

1990 was a year that represented a great deal of work on the part of the Board of Directors that may not be evident on the surface. We have created a solid foundation on which to build a better organization to serve our membership. In the coming year we still have much to do and we will need your help. We need people to come to the Winter Party and to participate in Northern Woods. Remember this is a voluntary organization and what you get out of it is in direct proportion to what you contribute. Let's have a great year.

John Hoppe, President

New Winter Party

The Woodworkers Guild is proud to announce "A New Winter Party." This year our party will be held in one of the areas finest restaurants, without the loud bands and other problems that have been present in the past. It will be held at Jax Cafe on 1928 University Avenue Northeast (on the corner of 20th and University). The date will be Saturday February 23rd starting at 6:30 pm, with dinner being served at 7:00 pm. After dinner we will have some fun with the container projects everyone has brought (see below).

The cost for dinner will be a modest $15.00 per person, with the remainder of the costs being paid for by the guild. Watch for an invitation to be mailed to you in January. When you receive it, please return the enclosed RSVP card promptly including your payment and meal choices.

A container project is not a requirement for coming to the party, so come and enjoy the fellowship of your woodworker friends.

Winter Party Fun Project

Please complete the following container and bring it to the winter party. The requirements are: A container of not more than 1 cubic foot of internal volume. This must be a functional container. Keep in mind this is all for fun, don't spend a lot of time making your container.
